(e.g. \textit{eBulletin, December 2012})

tickets: £20 special advance price for members of AAG

Non corporate grades:

Corporate grades:

At the close of 2012, our total membership is now 3251, comprising 2134 professionals, 363 students and 754 others.

During the last eight weeks we have also validated 41 Student Members!

In London has been the focus of Government and private enterprise spending on infrastructure for a number of years.

Archaeologists, Contracting Units and Museums.

The most recent workshop in Bath was well attended; archaeological measured survey on Scotland’s national forest estate released results of the day’s discussions ranging from research through conservation management and development control to interpretation and publication.

IfA members who have been identified as employers will soon receive a questionnaire relating to their organisation’s activities.

If you have any further questions about this, especially if you employ staff or are self-employed.

IfA will host an online consultation on the interim adoption of the Standard and guidance for archaeological advice and procurement of cultural assets.

For further details about these and the AIA’s other awards and prizes, or to nominate a project for any of these awards, please visit the AIA website.

If you have any questions about this, especially if you employ staff or are self-employed, please contact Camilla Massara on camilla.massara@archaeologists.net or phone 0121 212 2883.

We welcome submissions on any topic within the sphere of archaeological computing, but as this is the first year the presentation for the CAA UK Chapter conference 2013.

The conference is to be held at the Lanchester Building, Liverpool John Moores University, on the 23rd February 2013.

More information and Booking from Strode box office on 01458 442846 Mon-Fri 10am-5pm. Thu 10am-8pm and Sat 10am-5pm.

We welcome submissions on any topic within the sphere of archaeological computing, but as this is the first year the conference is to be held at the Lanchester Building, Liverpool John Moores University, on the 23rd February 2013.

The conference is to be held at the Lanchester Building, Liverpool John Moores University, on the 23rd February 2013.

For further details about these and the AIA’s other awards and prizes, or to nominate a project for any of these awards, please visit the AIA website.

If you have any further questions about this, especially if you employ staff or are self-employed, please contact Camilla Massara on camilla.massara@archaeologists.net or phone 0121 212 2883.

We welcome submissions on any topic within the sphere of archaeological computing, but as this is the first year the presentation for the CAA UK Chapter conference 2013.

The conference is to be held at the Lanchester Building, Liverpool John Moores University, on the 23rd February 2013.

More information and Booking from Strode box office on 01458 442846 Mon-Fri 10am-5pm. Thu 10am-8pm and Sat 10am-5pm.

We welcome submissions on any topic within the sphere of archaeological computing, but as this is the first year the conference is to be held at the Lanchester Building, Liverpool John Moores University, on the 23rd February 2013.

The conference is to be held at the Lanchester Building, Liverpool John Moores University, on the 23rd February 2013.

For further details about these and the AIA’s other awards and prizes, or to nominate a project for any of these awards, please visit the AIA website.

If you have any further questions about this, especially if you employ staff or are self-employed, please contact Camilla Massara on camilla.massara@archaeologists.net or phone 0121 212 2883.

We welcome submissions on any topic within the sphere of archaeological computing, but as this is the first year the presentation for the CAA UK Chapter conference 2013.

The conference is to be held at the Lanchester Building, Liverpool John Moores University, on the 23rd February 2013.

More information and Booking from Strode box office on 01458 442846 Mon-Fri 10am-5pm. Thu 10am-8pm and Sat 10am-5pm.

We welcome submissions on any topic within the sphere of archaeological computing, but as this is the first year the conference is to be held at the Lanchester Building, Liverpool John Moores University, on the 23rd February 2013.

The conference is to be held at the Lanchester Building, Liverpool John Moores University, on the 23rd February 2013.

For further details about these and the AIA’s other awards and prizes, or to nominate a project for any of these awards, please visit the AIA website.

If you have any further questions about this, especially if you employ staff or are self-employed, please contact Camilla Massara on camilla.massara@archaeologists.net or phone 0121 212 2883.

We welcome submissions on any topic within the sphere of archaeological computing, but as this is the first year the presentation for the CAA UK Chapter conference 2013.

The conference is to be held at the Lanchester Building, Liverpool John Moores University, on the 23rd February 2013.

More information and Booking from Strode box office on 01458 442846 Mon-Fri 10am-5pm. Thu 10am-8pm and Sat 10am-5pm.

We welcome submissions on any topic within the sphere of archaeological computing, but as this is the first year the conference is to be held at the Lanchester Building, Liverpool John Moores University, on the 23rd February 2013.

The conference is to be held at the Lanchester Building, Liverpool John Moores University, on the 23rd February 2013.

For further details about these and the AIA’s other awards and prizes, or to nominate a project for any of these awards, please visit the AIA website.

If you have any further questions about this, especially if you employ staff or are self-employed, please contact Camilla Massara on camilla.massara@archaeologists.net or phone 0121 212 2883.