

Talking 'bout my generation

Early career archaeological Geophysicists conference session

The Chartered Institute for Archaeologist's (CIfA) Geophysics (GeoSIG) and New Generation groups are pleased to be holding an afternoon session at the International Conference of Archaeological Prospection (ICAP), University of Bradford. The aim is provide to a forum to discuss how to begin a career in commercial archaeological geophysics, plus CPD training to improve delegates' employability.

As part of the session, we invite early career Geophysicists* to present short papers (~5 mins) intended to inform other early career Geophysicists and those who are looking to enter the profession.

We are keen to hear from you if you would like to present on topics such as

- i) the academic/career path that led you to your role
- ii) how you gain(ed) experience
- iii) what your current role entails
- iv) technical challenges faced or project case studies.

Following these papers, there will be an open discussion for new and experienced delegates to exchange views, ideas and knowledge.

GeoSIG and New Generation group are able to fund up to four Friday day delegate tickets for presenters who are early career CIfA members, thanks to the support of the Institute.

The submissions will be considered by the ICAP and CIfA working group and feedback will be provided for the accepted papers.

Please complete and return the form below to groups@archaeologists.net by midday Monday 21 August 2017.

If you have any questions, please feel free to call Lucy Learmonth (GeoSIG) on 03303 133 451 (landline rate) or Alistair Galt (New Generation group) on 07788 605 846. Thank you for your interest.

*For the purposes of this session, the term "early career Geophysicists" refers to the work experience of the delegate and not the length of time since their graduation. All submissions will be considered from those who consider themselves as such.
