

REGISTERED ORGANISATION APPLICATION FORM

Guidance

Updated Feb 2023

Version control:

Read through the form carefully. You will see that some sections do not apply and can be bypassed. Some are primarily boxes that need to be checked.

Some information will not have changed much since your last application and may only need to be copied and updated and although the layout of the form may have changed, many of the questions are the same.

You may be able to take some information from documents you have already produced for other purposes (such as an Annual Report) and tailor it for the application form

The preparation for the inspection is an opportunity for reflection on the process of continuous quality improvement within your organisation. Every individual member of your team has an input into aspects of this.

As the Responsible Post Holder you will need to ensure that the application form contains all the required information, but this can be completed by other members of staff on your behalf. For example

- Some post-excavation questions could be addressed by the post-ex manager or members of the post-ex team. (3.4)
- Someone with specific responsibility could answer Health and Safety questions (section 27)
- Members of the field team may be able to contribute to the Research section (3.1, 3.2, and 3.3)
- Line managers and those responsible for in-house training may be able to answer questions in the section on training (particularly 24.2.3 – 24.2.7)

For some parts of the form it may also be beneficial to start the process well in advance in order to gather the opinions of your staff and teams. For example

- Ethical business practices could be an exercise undertaken at team or Board meetings or as a stand-alone training session and could be a great way to promote and enhance professionalism (section 20).
- All members of staff should be able to describe aspects of your HR recruitment, retention, and reward practices (23.2.14 – 18). This could be an interesting short discussion on site or in the office, with someone to take notes.
- All staff should have something to contribute to the question on public benefit. This could be effectively addressed at team meetings to promote professionalism (section 26).

Section C: Historic environment investigation and research

This section is to be completed by all organisations that undertake, advise on, or procure historic environment work including the investigation of buried, upstanding or submerged heritage assets including research, desk-based assessment (including those undertaking DBAs and Heritage Statements as part of consultancy), geophysics, other assessment types, fieldwork and post-field work activities such as post-ex assessments, publications (including grey literature), and archive deposition.

Section 1 Advice and consultancy

If you provide specialist advice to the commissioners of services¹ in relation to the historic environment (either as stand-alone advice or incorporated into reports), please answer the following questions. (see Standard and guidance for commissioning work or providing consultancy advice on archaeology and the historic environment)

1.1 When your organisation gives advice to a commissioner

1.1.1 How does your organisation ensure that it complies with the Code of Conduct, Standards and guidance, other national and local guidance and legal and policy requirements, and ensures commissioners are aware of this? (Including - Incorporation of research objectives², Methods of promoting public engagement³)

Points to address and examples to consider may include:

- The range of advice provided to commissioner of services
- The range and type of local and national guidance and protocols referenced
- How guidance is collated, retained, stored, updated, checked, referenced
- Methods of validation and approval: documentation, regulatory authorities
- Heritage works undertaken in accordance with current best practice guidance
- Employment of competent and accredited staff
- Compliance: signposting of documents, awareness and training of staff, processes and procedures, editing process, sign off by senior staff
- Variance from standard guidance – situations, justification, validation and record.
- Incorporation of research objectives: What, where, when and how they are used. Barriers and the approaches to overcome them. Writing research objectives into WSIs and Post-Excavation Research Design (PERD)
- Methods of promoting public engagement eg case studies, work with the advisor/regulator, collaborating with PR companies
- Overcoming objections and barriers

1.1.2 How does your organisation ensure commissioners are aware of the costs and risks associated with a range of courses of action?

Examples may include:

- Costs/risk analysis and post-procurement due diligence
- Costs and risks highlighted during the initial costings
- Range of pricing options
- Contract management
- Details included in tender documentation
- Competence of staff undertaking costing
- Contingency funds
- Risk management process/protocols
- Consultation with client, design team, local and national advisors/regulators etc.
- Review of previous studies and all relevant background information
- Site walkover
- Checks on access, utilities, security, ground conditions, the presence of crop/livestock and the location and nature of the compound, traffic routes and flows
- Liaison with the client and other key stakeholders
- Ensuring work within manageable parameters or choice of contractors
- Obtaining all relevant permits and consents
- Assigning personnel with responsibility for oversight
- Periodic checks on costing
- Periodic review meetings
- Issuing interim reports

Section 2 Procuring services

Complete this section if your organisation procures historic environment services from other organisations or individuals, whether that is specialist services for parts of a project or whole projects.

2.1 Specifications and designs for historic environment work your organisation has procured

2.1.1 How do you ensure Written Schemes of Investigation (WSI) comply with the relevant CIfA Standards and Guidance?

Examples may include:

- Corresponds with the checklist in the guidance
- Internal and external monitoring and verification
- Justification for departing from the guidance

2.1.2 If you don't have specifications or designs for all procured work, explain why not?

2.1.3 If you don't ensure the WSI is approved in advance by the appropriate historic environment advisor/regulator explain why not.

Examples may include:

- Justifications and mitigating actions: Type of work, pre-planning work or other work outside of the planning process, no relevant or appropriate person to approve, efforts made to engage in consultation or overcome barriers

2.2 Managing procurement and tenders for historic environment work.

2.2.1 Indicate which archaeological and non-archaeological services your organisation sources from external organisations or individuals

Under £50k pa

Over £50k pa

Examples may include:

- Specialist archaeological and non-archaeological skills
- intrusive and non-intrusive work

2.2.2 Explain the procedures for seeking, selecting and awarding tenders or procuring services

Examples may include:

- Criteria for recommendations eg price, quality, capability, cost, track record, RO status, specialisms
- Approved suppliers application process
- Certifications and qualifications verified
- Meet CIfA minimum salary recommendations
- Specialisms, local knowledge
- Compliance with all protocols and procedures
- Preparing briefs and specifications
- Pricing and quotations - protocol
- Seeking approval from local or national regulatory authority
- Answering queries and clarifications
- Providing reports
- Retained record of relevant documents and certificates

2.2.3 How does your organisation ensure:

2.2.3.1 Those undertaking the work have the competence to do so and have access to necessary specialist advice.

Examples may include:

- Registered Organisation
- Individual CIfA accreditation
- Other relevant accreditations

- Repeat providers
- Demonstrably competent specialists
- Justification for other preferred suppliers
- PQQ and approved vendor list
- Employing competent staff

2.2.3.2 that the procurement of work and compliance with ClfA and other relevant standards is undertaken consistently across your organisation – in particular where you are NOT procuring work solely from Registered Organisations or ClfA accredited professionals?

Examples may include:

- Procurement consistent with Standard and guidance for commissioning work or providing consultancy advice on archaeology and the historic environment
- Procurement managed by RPH
- Briefs, procurement policy, terms and conditions reference and require compliance
- Use of templates
- Process of checks
- Supplier register

2.2.3.3 Adequate provision is made to complete the project to the required standards.

Examples may include adequate:

- procedures and processes
- brief/specification
- communication
- contracting and pricing (fully costed)
- project management and financial control
- contingency built in
- assessment of risk

2.2.3.4 Compliance with relevant Health and Safety regulations.

Examples may include:

- H&S documents submitted eg through procurement process
- Risk assessments, inductions, toolbox talks for sub-contractors
- Welfare facilities provided or detailed in the risk assessment
- Checks shown to be part of existing H&S accreditation process
- Evidence of competent H&S advice

2.3 How does your organisation monitor work it has procured

2.3.1 How does your organisation monitor the work it procures to ensure that the work done is of appropriate quality / fit for purpose?

Examples may include:

- Process of monitoring and review
- Project meetings
- Monitoring points throughout the life of the project
- Review by in-house experts
- Quality assurance of reports by appropriate people/external advisers

2.3.2 If the work is not of appropriate quality / fit for purpose, what action do you take. What is your escalation procedure?

Examples may include:

- Training in specialist skills to equip staff for monitoring
- Standards written into contract and not signed off unless met.
- Errors monitored and investigated
- Corrective actions
- Sanctions
- Complaints

2.4 Publication and archive deposition for work your organisation has procured.

2.4.1 How many projects (where work was completed five or more years ago) remain:

2.4.1.1 Unpublished (where publication was appropriate either to the significance of the findings or the requirements of the brief)

2.4.1.2 Archives not deposited in a museum or other recognised repository?

2.4.1.3 Archives not deposited in a recognised digital repository?⁴

2.4.2 If one or more, explain why and outline the current plans for ensuring material from unpublished fieldwork is brought to publication and archive deposition?

Examples may include:

- Addressing the different methods, personnel, current plans and funding attached to publication, archive and digital archive.

2.4.3 If organisations from whom you have procured work are required to participate in OASIS and to deposit reports with the relevant Historic Environment Record, describe how you ensure they do.

Examples may include:

- Requirement introduced early in project
- Forms appended to WSI
- Forms updated throughout life of project and at every reporting stage
- Review of projects to identify and complete outstanding forms
- Staff training and monitoring of updates

19.8 Organisation activities and services

Description of role of organisation and the major/principal activities or projects undertaken within the last three years, including the scale of work undertaken.

19.9 Skills

What historic environment and support skills do you have in-house in the last 3 years?

What skills do you hire or buy in?

20 Ethical business practices (See the ClfA Code of conduct⁹ (In particular Principle 1) and Professional Practice paper 'An Introduction to Professional Ethics'¹⁰)

20.1 Describe any potential ethical issues your organisation encounters with respect to the services you provide and the processes you use to manage them (for example, reconciling the needs of a client with those of the historic environment, providing commercial planning advice and commercial investigative services, working with volunteers, students or interns, non disclosure agreements and confidentiality of knowledge gained through services). Reference to the Code of Conduct may be a useful guide.

Examples of processes may include:

- Existing codes of conduct and policies e.g. bribery and corruption, fraud etc
- Internal audit
- Commitment to development and maintenance of individual competence and integrity
- Commercial and personal confidentiality and intellectual copyright
- CPD – training, reading or debate on ethics and handling potential ethical issues
- Consistent reference to Standards and guidance
- Professional discussions on potential ethical issues
- Planned and considered ethical processes for procurement and contracting
- Fair, open and honest contractual arrangements with agreed fees and charges and payment schedules to be honoured by both the supplier and the customer
- Company-wide processes for escalation, negotiation and resolution of issues of ethics and business practices
- How and when to advise clients to regarding conflicts of interest and seeking disinterested advice
- Policy on the use of volunteers and students - ensuring that the involvement of unwaged archaeologists confers no commercial advantage or loss of quality of product
- Providing sufficient time for excavation in the face of potentially conflicting time pressures
- Operate with avoidance of harm – human rights, environment, health and safety, wellbeing of society at large
- Fair and objective in advice and actions. Not influenced by prejudice.
- Do not tolerate bullying, harassment, discrimination
- Open grievance and complaint procedure
- Support trade union rights
- Training and appraisal to ensure professionalism
- Non exploitation, through fair pay and conditions, abide by employment regulations, Modern Slavery Act and other relevant legislation
- How to use quality management and provision of proper processes, people, plant, equipment and services, and through planning, delivery and review to support ethical behaviour.

21 Standards and quality assurance

(Please refer to additional guidance page 5¹¹, Code of conduct rules 4.1-4.7; Standards and guidance; Policy statement on Environmental protection).¹²

21.1 Details of any quality system that has been subject to formal evaluation or certification (eg by ISO)

21.2 If not formally accredited, please describe your organisation's quality assurance procedures and provide documentation explaining how quality is managed (how quality is achieved, and errors resolved)

Examples of quality assurance procedures may include:

- Use of Standards and guidance
- Set processes for routine tasks eg selection toolkits, data management plans, use of terms and glossaries
- Procedure for updating processes to meet changing standards, legislation and requirements
- Processes and operating procedures documented
- Tracking and auditing of inputs and outputs
- Monitoring of processes and procedures
- Work monitored and checked with a verification and sign off process
- Tabulated document version controls
- Errors reviewed and "lessons learnt" process
- Supervision and management of quality, built into job roles
- Sharing good practice with other Registered Organisations
- Attending Responsible Post Holder meetings
- Annual review of report templates

21.3 If anyone in charge of a project or activities is not a MCIfA, how does your organisation ensure their competence is appropriate?

Examples may include:

- Recruitment process – evidence of competence, references, interview, induction, probation
- Appraisals
- Monitoring
- Training
- Accreditation a requirement of role – perhaps linked to progression and reward

21.4 How does your organisation monitor, review and implement ClfA's Code of conduct and Standards and guidance and other relevant standards and guidance, including communicating this to staff as part of its quality assurance process?

Examples may include:

- Specified in staff terms and conditions
- Written into the standard operating procedures for all staff

- Member of staff responsible for reviewing updates
- Internal audits of processes against standards and guidance
- Use as part of standing items in team meetings eg discussions of lessons learnt or ethical business practice

22. Professional accreditation

Please provide information on the average number of staff your organisation employs in various historic environment roles (eg project managers, excavators, development control archaeologists, SMR/HER assistants, conservation officers, senior academic staff, research staff, teaching assistants, technical staff, etc) and indicate how many are accredited by ClfA. If your organisation does not employ staff, please answer these questions where relevant to yourself. (ClfA believes that the greater the proportion of staff who are ClfA accredited professionals the greater our confidence that standards will be complied with. That is why a reduced Registration subscription rate is offered to those with a higher percentage of individual ClfA accreditation.)

Employment package

There is a package of employment entitlements that Registered Organisation employers are expected to adhere to, and which all ClfA-accredited professionals acting as employers are required to endeavour to meet or exceed. The breakdown of these is as follows:

- 6% employer pension contribution subject to any reasonable qualifying period
 - From 2018, all employers must provide a workplace pension scheme by law and from 1 April, the minimum contribution is 3%. ClfA expects employers contributing less than 6% to compensate elsewhere within the employment package
 - There is no requirement within the amended scheme for employers to compensate staff who choose to opt out of auto-enrolment
- Average 37.5 hour working week
 - It is recognised that the circumstances of contract work often require working beyond these hours, compensated for by systems of time off in lieu or overtime payments. A regular increase in working hours should be reflected by a corresponding increase in pay.
- Sick leave allowance of at least 1 month on full pay subject to any reasonable qualifying period
 - Sick leave allowance may be aggregated over a rolling twelve-month period.
 - Three to four months is suggested as a reasonable qualifying period.
 - Staff employed on a fixed-term or part-time basis should be entitled to sick pay accrued on a sliding scale or pro rata basis.

Any employer not adhering to this package is expected to remunerate their staff as follows.

Condition	PCIfA	ACIfA	MCIfA
2023/24 minimum salary recommendations	£23,231	£27,085	£34,792
Less than 6% employer pension contribution (per % point)	£232.31	£270.87	£347.92
Per additional hour over and above 37.5 hpw	£619.49	£722.27	£927.79
No sick leave allowance (based on min. 1 month full pay)	£1,935.92	£2,257.08	£2,899.33

²⁴ Health and Safety: In order to be confident that organisations are compliant with the Code of Conduct we will be looking for organisations to have access to competent H&S advice either through an appropriately trained member of staff or a competent H&S advisor (external company, local authority etc.). For organisations that have a current formal H&S qualification (as set out in the application form) the committee and inspection panels will assume that this scheme has ensured that the organisation meets the required standards.

As part of the inspection process, RO panels will be checking that staff are aware of whom to ask for H&S advice, and for organisations with external advisors, that there is a clear relationship, with open communication and oversight. Where this is not in place it is likely that an organisation will be recommended to put in place suitable arrangements.
